Combatting the Flu Surge: Safeguarding Your Health with Recuro Urgent Care

Timely Access and Contagion Prevention

As flu season arrives, it's imperative to shield yourself from illness. The CDC estimates that the flu has caused up to 41 million illnesses annually in the United States since 2010, [1] with last year alone witnessing approximately 650,000 hospitalizations and as many as 58,000 deaths. [2] Consequently, a surge in Urgent Care appointments is anticipated in the months ahead.

In response, Recuro Urgent Care offers a solution for expedited access to healthcare providers without the delays typical of in-person clinics. By leveraging Recuro's efficient and accessible virtual platform, patients can promptly connect with qualified doctors, receive tailored treatment plans, and minimize exposure risks associated with traditional clinics during contagious outbreaks. Embracing Recuro Urgent Care becomes a proactive measure to safeguard individual well-being and alleviate strain on healthcare infrastructure during this critical period of flu season.

The coordination with my primary care physician was seamless, and getting my prescription ordered and ready for pickup was a breeze. I was relieved I didn't have to coordinate time-off work and still get care."

How Recuro Urgent Care Can Help Alleviate This Year's Flu Season Risks

Reduce Unnecessary Exposure: Battling the flu can be difficult, especially with compromised immune systems. Recuro Urgent Care empowers patients with a virtual consultation from the safety of their home, minimizing the risk of exposure to other illnesses.

Comfort & Convenience: No more lengthy commutes to the clinic, difficult appointment scheduling hassles, and prolonged waiting times. Patients can book an appointment wherever and whenever is most convenient for them. Avoid the wait room, not the treatment.

Get Treated Now, Not Later: With Recuro, patients can book an Urgent Care consult in 10min or less... helping patients avoid costly, inconvenient, in-person visits - eliminating unnecessary expenses such as high co-pays, transportation costs, and time-off work. Instead we prioritize accessibility so members receive quality care from Recuro physicians the same day they book their Urgent Care appointment.

Coordinated Care & Referrals: Recuro Primary Care covers various forms of care management, including coordinated care when a specialist referral is needed. Recuro Primary Physicians can easily oversee this handoff using the Recuro Care app to help bridge the care gap. Here providers link patients with the appropriate experts, ensuring ease of access for our members.

Don't forget, our physicians can prescribe medications for a wide range of conditions, including the flu, and send them to our patient's preferred pharmacy. Learn more today: <https://recurohealth.com/virtual-urgent-care/>
